The Fifth Avenue Combination.

This excellent troupe will open a season of two nights and a matinee, at the Academy of Music, this evening, with the great dramatic and social sensation of the day, entitled "Divorce." Saturday afternoon "Mons. Alphonse" will be played, and Saturday evening "Led Estray." Reserve your seats at Eberhart's.

Concerning the new play of "Divorce." as acted by this company, the Louisville Courier-Journal, of a recent date, contains the following: The audience present at "Divorce" last night was the largest and most fashionable we have ever known congregated in Louisville for a similar entertainment. Brilliant musical or theatrical stars have drawn as large, or perhaps larger houses, but no mere company, without a notable name to head the list, has ever had such a compliment tendered it here. Not only was every seat down stairs and in the galleries occupied but the aisles and lobbies were filled, and hardly standing room at that. The ladies were generally in brilliant toilettes, but hardly in evening dress. It was altogether a memorable entertainment in the history of such affairs here. The company producing "Divorce" is well worthy of this

Horrible Accident at East Nebraska City. A terrible accident occured last evening, by which a brakeman by the name of William Davis lost his move forward, when an extra freight came up from the south, which approaghed Mr. Davis. It seems that the unfortunste man caught one of his feet in one of the trogs of the track, and was unable to extricate the same. The locomotive of the extra train was moving at such speed that it could not be stopped. Mr. Davis was struck and his body mangled in a most horrible manner. His death must have been almost instantaneous as his brains were dashed out and scattered along the track. He was a resident of St. Joe. He leaves no family. The body

Maticions Deviltry. Among the mean, cowardly, das-tardly, contemptible, whelpish, heathenish tricks performed at the Ogden House fire this morning, was the wanton destruction of a large mirror. The man's name we cannot ascertain. A large, eleven foot pierglass stood in one of the parlors, and could have been removed without loss, but the infuriated devil to whom we refer, took his fist and broke it to pieces. Such men de-serve beingchained in hell ten times hotter than the fire then around him, until all the feathers were scortched on him and the singed cat let loose into the world; an ex-ample of vandalism.—Council Bluffs

Tobias Claus, the discharged soldier, who was some weeks ago ar- still growing, and as any informarested for stealing some small arti- tion concerning the "land of gold" cles from the house of Miss Emma | will prove of interest to our many Davis, was yesterday tried at the readers, we insert the following from District Court. The defendant was the Sioux City Journal:

charged with grand larceny. District Attorney Connell presen-City on the 10th of September, and ted the case to the jury in an able on the 12th he, in company with and eloquent manner; Mr. J. Osgood two other plucky young fellows, Adams, a young and rising attorout with a mule team, well provisney, appeared for the defendant Mr. Adams made an eloquent ap-Hills. Mr. Stone's party has re-turned. He informed us that he client, who had served in the war, and had been honorably discharged. This fact alone it seems entitled the prisoner to mercy, and Mr. Adams thought, all things being considered, it was no more than fair that he should be acquitted. The jury weighed well the logical remarks of the counsel, and after retiring for a few minutes, returned a verdict of guilty of petit larceny, they having found the articles stolen not to be of greater value than the sum of nine dollars. His Honor, Judge Lake, sentenced the culprit to thirty days imprisonment in the county jail, to which he was escorted by Deputy Sheriff Hanlon.

The favorable verdict of the jury in finding Claus guilty of only petit stead of grand larceny, was undoubtedly brought about by the eloquence of Mr. Adams, which overshadowed in the minds of the jury, in this case at least, the ability and experience of District Attorney Connell. Mr. Adams was assisted in the case by Mr. Edward Simeral. another young attorney, who is des tined to rise at the bar.

The case of Charles Edwards charged with burglarizing the California wine store, next came on for trial. The defendant in this case was also represented by Messrs. Adams and Simeral.

Enterprise and Coal.

The Omaha BEE seemed to think that the figures which we made in regard to the coal veins on the line of the proposed Trunk railway were a little "fishy." We believed then, and believe now, that they were fair and moderate. We accompanied a Chicago gentleman to the territory of the coal veins, the other day, and his figures and estimates greatly exceed those made by us. Under date of the 16th instant J. A. Hancock writes to the BEE from this city a communication in regard to the coal fields spoken of. Whoever he may be, he claims to be familiar with coal deposits, through-211 Douglas street. life. Mr. Davis had just changed a out the United States. His stateswitch and motioned his train to ment in regard to the resources of that property, gives figures which are much greater than our own. CROSSING THE RUBICON

Casar crossed the Rubicon, In search of sunny skies, Beneath Ittalia's genial sun, Behold his standard rise. Across the sweeping Bhine, Napclesn led his men, To place upon his aching brow Another kingly diadem.

We've crossed the Douglas Rubicon, As all the West should know, And now upon the corner, We've opened up our show. We had not room within our store

We give you now a larger one With prices just the same, We've hats to suit the million, From h gh to low degree. With Cas and Gloves for all the West, As one can plainly see,
